2) The aim of this Department being to preserve and encourage the artistic crafts surviving in Mysore more especially the fine fretted sandal-wood carvings of Sorab, it is doubtful if the modification of the policy, the Govt has pursued hitherto in this respect in selling the articles at cost price bearing themselves the other incidental charges of establt & carriage, would help the cause of those arts.

Enclosure No.

Sir,

When Mr Chatterton visited the Jubilee Institute a few days back to make some purchases from the Artware collection for the Victoria Technical Institute, Madras, he expressed his opinion that such articles as are stocked here may command a wider sale at Madras and suggested that some of them may be sent, for Commission Sale, to the Victoria Technical Institute at Madras.

2) As this arrangement will promote the main object of the Artware department — to preserve and encourage the arts of carving — I beg that Government will sanction the proposed arrangement.

3) The department is now working at a slight loss, as articles purchased from the artisans are sold at the cost price — at the prices for which they have been purchased — the establishment charges being borne by Government. To avoid further loss, owing to conveyance and Commission charges, the original prices may be enhanced by a certain percentage, to be settled after ascertaining the rate of commission to be charged by the Victoria Institute.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant

N Ramakrishnaiah

Officer in charge of Artware
